Commercial Regulations

Regulations change throughout the year. The best way to learn about applicable regulations is to search the Code of Maryland Regulations (COMAR) at <http://www.dsd.state.md.us/COMAR/ComarHome.html>. Visit the DNR Fisheries Regulations webpage at <http://dnr.maryland.gov/fisheries/regulations/regindex.asp> for regulations summaries by species and gear type as well as proposed or draft regulations.

COMAR Online:

There are three different ways to search for regulations in COMAR.

1. The first is a keyword search that brings up all regulations with that keyword, or search for a specific codification number. Some species have many common names, so if one name produces no results, try the other name (i.e. use striped bass instead of rockfish).
2. The second option is a keyword search within a specific title. Select the title "08" for the Department of Natural Resources and search for a keyword or codification number within that title.
3. The third option is to navigate through the Table of Contents. Choose "Title 08" for the Department of Natural Resources. From there, choose the subtitle "02 Fisheries Service". Select one of the chapters to view a list of all the regulations in that chapter.

Search Options for COMAR Online

- Option 1: Search on a word or phrase, or enter the codification number
(search is word specific unless you add an asterisk *)
- Option 2: Search a specific Title
(will search only that title for word or codification number)
- Option 3: Access through Table of Contents Structure
(will display table of contents by Title, Subtitle & Chapter)

Important Information:

In August 2003, the State Ethics Commission Advisory Opinions were no longer printed in COMAR Title 19A, but are available ONLY as part of COMAR Online. They can be accessed or searched using all three search options.

- Search Option 1: (ex. 79.01)
- Search Option 2: select Advisory Opinions link under 19A (which limits the results returned).
- Search Option 3: Advisory Opinion's listed by year. This option will return the opinions in that year.

Effective Dates:

- COMAR regulations are effective to date.
- COMAR is updated biweekly corresponding with the effective dates in the most current Maryland Register issue.

Maryland Annotated Code

In addition to COMAR, read the Maryland Annotated Code online at <http://www.lexisnexis.com/hottopics/mdcode/>. Scroll down to "Natural Resources" and click + then click + for "Title 4: Fish and Fisheries". Choose the + next to the applicable subtitle to view the laws.

Public Notices

For certain species, DNR may modify catch limits, size limits, quotas, or open or close a season by public notice. To view these public notices, visit <http://dnr.maryland.gov/fisheries/notices/notices.asp>.

If DNR has not received a report by that time it is considered LATE. The names of those individuals with late reports appear on the "Late Reports" list on the commercial fisheries web-page at <http://dnr.maryland.gov/fisheries/commercial/index.asp>. If the report is still not received by DNR 50 days after the report due date, the licensee receives an official violation. Two or more official violations for any of the report types in a 12 month period may result in a license suspension.
