 - The summit will bring together USM faculty and staff from all 12 institutions and research labs to develop better connections within USM and learn from other practitioners that have developed effective models for teacher professional development in Maryland and other leading states. For more information contact Adam Frederick (jfrederi@umd.edu)

- Network Advisory Team (NAT)

- Nat is NAT is planning the 2025 Environmental Literacy Forum Jan 7-8, 2025. The Forum will aim to promote sustainable funding and a cultural shift towards environmental literacy and sustainability within school districts by bringing together environmental literacy change-makers to explore effective strategies and provide action-oriented approaches for engaging local decision-makers.
 - ACTION: Reach out to Jemima Clark (melan@maeoe.org) and Olivia Wisner (Olivia.Wisner1@maryland.gov) if you know of anyone from your networks that would benefit from a training about how to engage with Superintendents, Boards of Education, county and district leadership and legislators after the forum to advance funding for environmental education.
- Background: NAT is a group made up of members from the Chesapeake Bay Program Education workgroup, the Chesapeake Bay Trust, NOAA, NAAEE, MELAN, and communities of practice. NAT aims to coordinate, promote and weave the environmental literacy network ecosystem in the Mid-Atlantic region by increasing communication among groups and collectively planning for regional gatherings.
